CONOR J. HULBURT, ESQ.

Associate

Conor J. Hulburt focuses on litigation in the areas of personal injury, product liability, business disputes, and professional liability. Conor has experience in all stages of litigation. Prior to joining Pettit Kohn, he worked with a well-regarded civil defense firm in San Diego where he successfully resolved numerous cases on behalf of his clients. He recently obtained a favorable settlement in a highly contested alleged brain injury case. He also recently had great success representing a financial planner in a complex professional liability matter. He takes pride in providing his clients with the best possible representation, and he goes the extra mile to ensure his clients are informed and empowered every step of the way.

Conor was born and raised in San Diego, California. He earned his Juris Doctorate degree at the University of San Diego School of Law and his Bachelor of Arts degree in Literature from California State University, Chico. While attending law school, Conor was a competing member of the school's National Mock Trial Team.

Conor also recognizes the importance of giving back to the community he grew up in and often represents individuals through the San Diego Volunteer Lawyer Program on issues ranging from housing to employment.
